Summary

A highly analytical and results-driven Senior Data Analyst specializing in media intelligence, bringing a decade of progressive experience spanning digital marketing and data analytics. My expertise in media monitoring has significantly evolved, from foundational manual analysis to leveraging advanced platforms like Emplifi. In my current capacity, I deploy a cutting-edge AI-powered crawling tool to conduct in-depth media monitoring and leverage sophisticated AI-driven analysis, extracting critical insights from vast, unstructured datasets. I translate these complex findings into actionable, client-facing dashboards and clear strategic recommendations that optimize decision-making, enhance brand reputation, and drive impactful growth across diverse governmental and private sectors. I remain a passionate advocate for data-driven strategies and continuous professional development in the dynamic field of media analytics.
